Awarded Highest Honors

John Downing Sneed was graduated in June from the University of Virginia College of Arts and Sciences with Highest Honors in Economics, and as recipient of the John L. Williams Prize.

The John Langbourne Williams Prize is awarded annually at graduation to the most outstanding scholar in the Honors Program.

John, a 1966 graduate of Appomattox High School is a National Merit Scholar, an Echols Scholar, and a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

In the fall, John will enter the University of Minnesota where he has accepted a position as teaching assistant while he pursues graduate study.

John Sneed

He is the son of Mrs. Libby Sneed, formerly of Appomattox, and the late Mr. Sneed.

Bureau Urges Soybean Vote

The Virginia Department of Agriculture has announced the referendum to be held on a soybean check-off. Any Virginia farmer who has produced or sold soybeans in any of the past three years is eligible to vote in the referendum provided he fills out a "Voter Certification" form and mails it to the VDA by July 7. Ballots will be mailed only to those who certify in time. A 2/3 favorable vote is required to impose an excise tax of 1/2¢ per bushel on all soybeans produced and sold in Virginia.

To insure the maximum participation in making this decision, the Appomattox County Farm Bureau is urging fellow producers to certify by July 7. Certification forms may be obtained at the Appomattox County Farm Bureau office or from Munro Dyess at his home, according to an announcement from the Farm Bureau president, Walter Henry.

MASONS PLAN MEETING

The regular stated meeting of Southside Lodge 191, Pamplin, will meet Monday, July 6, E. A. Degree. All Master Masons are invited.

Uniroyal To Train Workers

Richmond - Uniroyal, Inc. of Farmville has signed a contract to hire and train 96 disadvantaged jobless workers under the JOB '70 program.

The contract is with the U.S. Department of Labor and was prepared by the company and the Virginia Employment Commission. The VEC also finds and screens applicants for the program.

The contract will provide intensive training for periods of 13 to 28 weeks. The training will teach workers the occupations of line workers, maintenance man helper, special machine stitcher, and inspector.

The participants will begin earning hourly wages of $1.60 and after training is completed will earn from $1.88 to $2.16 per hour.

WOODMEN CANCEL JULY MEETINGS

Camp 71, Woodmen of the World, will not hold meetings on July 6 or July 20 because of a national convention and vacations of officers.

Next regular meeting will be Monday, August 3.

Return From 4-State Tour

Members of this year's tour group included residents of Campbell, Amherst, Halifax, Mecklenburg, Amelia, Pittsylvania and Appomattox counties. Russell L. Upshaw, Fidelity Vice President and Farm Representative in Rustburg, and Hubert M. Collins, Assistant Vice President and Farm Representative in Chase City, planned and coordinated the tour.

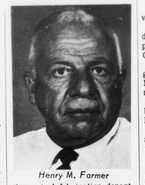
This year's itinerary included parts of Virginia, Delaware, Maryland and Pennsylvania. Attending from Appomattox County were Robert E. McClenny, Jr., Lyle M. Garrett, H. P. Evans and E. T. Taylor.

County Native Becomes Foreman

Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, a major component of Tenneco Inc., has effected two staff changes in the shipyard's steel hull division. The announcement was made by J. E. Turner, Jr., division superintendent.

Henry M. Farmer has been appointed foreman on the division staff and will be responsible for material control and handling and fabrication procedures. Dewey L. Stinson Jr. will replace Farmer as foreman of the steel fabrication department; he will handle receiving, storing, blasting, painting, layoff and forming of all steel shapes and plates used in construction of ships.

Farmer joined the shipyard in 1936 in the fitters department. He transferred to the mold loft in 1938 and became a quarterman in 1941 and assist quarterman in 1941 and assistant foreman in 1944. In 1967, he was appointed foreman of the steel fabrication department.



Henry M. Farmer

A native of Appomattox, Va., Farmer is a past president of the Progressive Club, an organization made up of shipyard supervisors.

He and his wife Marian live at 415 Hiden Blvd., Newport News. They have one daughter.

Stop For School Bus On Divided Highway No Longer Required

As of June 26, motorists will no longer be required to stop for a halted school bus if the bus is on the opposite side of a highway divided by a physical barrier or unpaved section, John T. Hanna, Director of the Virginia Highway Safety Division, and Raymond L. Wimbish, Supervisor of Pupil Transportation for the Department of Education, advised today.

The original law was amended by the 1970 General Assembly, which also amended another law to require drivers of school buses to take on and discharge children on the same sides of such highways as they live.

Hanna noted that the required stop tended to produce rear-end collisions since in many states it was not required and visiting motorists were not aware of the Virginia law. In addition, he said many Virginia drivers also apparently did not think the stop was required.

The stop will be required on all other roads and Wimbish said that although regular school sessions are closed for the summer, buses will still be transporting pupils attending summer sessions.

King's Mkt. Rips Foundry 21-9

King's Mkt. banged out 24 hits last Thursday night down the Lynchburg Foundry 21-9 in a class "A" softball game in Lynchburg. The win enabled Kings to finish the first half of the season with a 9-7 mark.

The Foundry got off to a 4-0 in the first inning with two out and added two more in their top half of the second to make it 6-0, but Kings banged out 11 hits, including three big home runs, and scored 10 runs in the bottom of the second. The Foundry added one in the fourth and two in the seventh but that wasn't enough as Kings kept hitting away. They had 12 extra base hits among their 24 hit attack.

Alvin Phelps led King's Mkt. with four hits and started two big rallies. He was followed by Mike Mitchell and Bradley Babcock with three hits each and Earl Martin, Doug Mitchell, Jimmy Mayberry, Buddy Wilcox, Boogie Whitehead and Orie Millner with two hits each. Earl Martin drove in five runs, Boogie Whitehead, four, and Bradley Babcock and Doug Mitchell 3 each, and Wilcox, Mayberry and M. Mitchell, two each. Babcock had two home runs and Martin, Wilcox and Whitehead each hitting one. Mike Mitchell had two triples and Doug Mitchell had two doubles.
